Peculiarity of Draw Which Brought But One Prominent Player in Top Half Factor in Outcome—Comment on Event.

By HARRY C. SMITH.

The 1908 women's national golf cham-pionship, while by no means the great-beaten only by nervousness over a est to date, has proved one of the most short putt on the home green. In this distinctive and enjoyable yet held, and connection, how long will it be before none will linger longer in the memory of the participants. the memory of final and semi-finals at 36 holes, folthe participants,

Because of the scant entry from New York and Chicago, the entry of forty was only about two-thirds of what is should have been, even in a Presidential year. The banner list, six seasons ago, when faddists overran the sport, was close to 100. Because of the small entry, all but six players qualified, which latter has been admirably schooled, and enabled half a dozen women to gain her judgment squite as much as the place who otherwise would have stood draw, made her national runner up was the peculiarity of the draw which brought only one thoroughly prominent solfer into the top half-Miss Fanny Osgood, Eastern champion.

A primrose path seemed to have been blazed for her, but golf is the most uncertain of sports. In the second match round Miss Osgood encountered Miss Carmelita Shreve, who temperamentally is anything but a golfer. "Fil be back soon," said Miss Shreve to her friends, as she started with Miss Osgood from the first tee, meaning that she expected the match would end with several unplayed holes. Seized with a burst of Spouring of Southerness. played holes. Seized with a burst of Showing of Southerners. most ordinary players, Miss Shreve won by three up and two to go with some surprising figures. Miss Osgood, on the other hand, was two or three shades off

Next in order of surprise came the defeat of Miss Mary Adams in the same round by Miss Katherine Harley, after rather indifferent play. Although twice a semi-finalist, for three years Miss Harley's star has not loomed large on the horizon, so her victory was not considered significant, especially as Miss Adams was overgolfed.

There was a fitness in the retirement the same day of Misses Osgood and Adams, who along with Mrs. Caleb Fox are the best women medal players in America, the two being particularly associated with the new Eastern cham-

Although nominally remaining in the Boston district, the honor has really left the Hub, too long the holder for the way and Miss Harriot Curtis disposed of the same day, observers previously wary in wagering upon Miss Margaret Curtis, title holder, flopped to her as the "one best bet." She was nowhere, however, except from the tee and through the fair green against Miss Harley. After that everything was practically over except the shouting for Fall River.

Mrs. Fox, however, put up as close a Mathough nominally remaining in the Boston district, the honor has really left the Hub, too long the holder for the best interests of the game. As among the men, a leveling up of ability all around is in progress. The greatest regret was that Mrs. Charles T. Sout, of New York, the greatest woman player America I as ever produced, was prevented from the cean of the sport for two years.

It is charitable to say as little as possible about the hostility of severa out the metropolinan players to Washing-the metropolinan players to Washing-the metropolinan players to the first time their opposition has been aroused, nor the first time their opposition has been aroused, nor the first time their opposition.

Navy Yard Five Still in Lead Though Bureau Is Edging Up

Aggies Coming Strong, and by Taking Three Straight From Commissioners Tie With Interior and Treasury for Third Place.

Navy Yard still leads in the race in the Departmental Bowling League, but its good, fat margin of two weeks ago is being rapidly cut down by the Bu-reaus, who have made clean sweeps of all their games except one during the past fortnight.

Bureau has lost two more than the Sailors, but they have also four to the good on the credit side, having bowled six more games than the leaders.

six more games than the leaders.

Those Aggies are coming some, too, and by trimming the hard-luck Commissioners three straight Thursday night they are tied with interior and Treasury for third place. The struggle for the top berth will be a hot one, as the strong teams are now getting their last season's form and bunching up toward the top.

Navy also leads in team average, and Moss still has high game of 263. His high set of 609, however, was knocked out by Jacobs, of the Interiors, who hit 'em for 634 in the set against Treasury.

Jimmy Field, last year's champion, is again in the lead with two points over O'Donnell. Williams, of G. P. O., has slipped from first to fifth place.

MICHIGAN AGAIN MEETS A TARTAR

Ohio State Puts Up Strong Defense Against Coach

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 24.—Michigan defeated Ohio State, 10 to 6, in a hardfought game today.

Ohio held well against the aggressive tactics of Michigan and both teams resorted to punting. Michigan's first score was made on a place kick by Allerdice. Gibson, for Ohio State, by a wide end run, got through Michigan for a touchdown and kicked goal. A touchdown and kicked goal. A touchdown and goal for Michigan in the second half ended the scoring.
